Woodmen of the World's auniversary celebration last night was a brilliant success in every detail. Reports were circulated long ago that the construction of the city hall was faulty and that there was danker of collapse in case a very large crowd should assemble in it. That fear is now set at rest, for the hall was packed to its utmost expactly last night with some 500 or 600 men, women and children. The presentation of the initiation of a candidate into the Ancient Order of Hercules was well rendered, the riding of a live goat being one of the mast realistic scenes in the play. The gentlemen in the east (of course there were no ladies), all acquitted themselves must creditably and gave all present a must enloyable entertainsons. After the play all hands were treated to a sumptuous feast, and then to the sweet in every detail. Reports were circulated dulged in to a late hour.
